music. In November we employed our first teacher who also moved in with us – Issa, a young Christian man who is called to work with street children. The Lord also sent us a Christian doctor who is always on call, and whose services we need frequently. All kids grow rapidly in every way, thanks to the school and to their time with the Lord alone and with the others (90 min a day). Every night each kid is prayed over and blessed. Today they have a loving family – in heaven as well as on earth.

After 8 years of preparation I moved to Mali by faith, to step into God's call for the sake of the 3rd poorest nation in the world. For two years I taught German at a small local High School, and one year into that the church called Centre Apostolique Malien was born. In November 2004, we had our first service, baptizing two young men, one of whom had gotten saved two months after my arrival in Mali. A year later, my now right hand man Paul was baptized together with 3 other new believers, and this past November, on our 2nd anniversary, we baptized 7 new believers. We seek to serve our community preaching the gospel with words and actions, by doing movie nights, offering literacy and English classes, and a children's program. CAM meets every Sunday afternoon for a service, and we also form local believers in our Bible school. This year we had 5 new students which is reason for great joy. For this past year we've been going on our new property on a weekly basis, doing a kids' program and discipling new believers. We've seen the sick healed, and food multiplied.

This past half year a deaf-mute spoke and heard, and a paralyzed man got up on his feet. Praise God!

Street Children

In Dec 2004 we did our first Christmas Party for Street Kids, proclaiming the gospel, feeding and clothing them, and praying for the sick. Several times a year about 100 kids show up at the time for those parties, and several get saved and also healed every time. This past Christmas we were also able to give a pair of shoes to each kid that came.

In September 2005 we started ministering to the street kids on a weekly basis – playing games, singing & dancing, memorizing verses, teaching them, praying for them, and eating together. Sekouba was the first street kid that stayed with us, followed by Abdias, Foussemi, Abdiel, Daouda, Solomani and Eli. In May 2006 the first three moved into the house with me, and I started teaching them daily - the Bible, reading, writing, math, French and

Our Resident Kids

Abdias, 14

Delivered of all the demon friends he came with, Abdias is a joyful, loving young man.

Fousseni, 15

Having suffered beatings, hunger, and death of loved ones, Fousseni is slowly being healed by love.

Saloum, 17

Thrown out by his violent father, this smart kid has found refuge with us.

Hama, 6

Born crippled on the left side and punished by society for it, he's now starting to blossom by unconditional love.

Sarata, 2

Several malnourished when she first came, Sarata is turning into a lively, talkative, inquisitive girl.

Solomani, 13

An actual slave in his uncle's home, Solomani had to work very hard, was beaten and not given any food.

Expansion into Mali

In April 2006 we finally got a 19-year-old car to be able to move around, which has opened doors for us to minister on our property as well as outside Bamako. In August the Lord opened the door into village evangelism, which had been on my heart for many years. We now go into the village of Dio on a monthly basis to preach the gospel and heal the sick, and to feed the orphans and widows, supporting the only pastor in that village of 4000. Pastor Enoch was spiritually dead when I first met him, but today he's more alive than ever and starts seeing miracles through his own hands. For the first time he has adults in his church, as people turn to the Lord when we come to visit. We've seen heart conditions, poisoning, and birth defects healed. The children that have come to the Lord are fiery evangelists, persecuted by family and friends, and some of them we have to take in with us in Bamako

In May we went to two villages where no white person had ever gone and the gospel never preached. Hundreds were saved and healed, and the mosques closed. Now they are building a church, and our pastor goes there on a weekly basis to disciple the new believers, and other villages are also asking us to come. We're excited to take the region for the Lord together - and it's only the beginning! We're forming believers in our Bible school to send them into the rest of the country to start churches where no believers exist today, so that the whole of Mali can be filled with His glory.

Sponsoring Children

There are now three categories of children in need who are looking for sponsors - the 6 children with us (all sponsored), then children in our neighborhood too poor to go to school or eat properly, and finally children in the village, where we are doing family sponsorships for widows or divorced women who barely survive with their many children. We're now feeding about 40 people a day. Please check my website to see who still needs a sponsor. Sponsorship for one child is $50 per month, and for a family $40.

Moving In October

At the end of October we're moving onto our property. Construction has started, but we still need thousand of dollars to have a house to move into. Details about our building project can be found in the separate brochure.

SUPPORTERS NEEDED

Monthly supporters are greatly needed, as only a third of our monthly expenses are covered, i.e. $970 of $2700, and expenses are rising.
